Situated within the culturally rich enclave of Tiong Bahru in Singapore, The Highline Suite by Right Angle Studio is a carefully considered urban residence conceived as a serene retreat for a bachelor.

The apartment embraces a minimalist approach, where each decision prioritises openness and calm over ornamental excess. A key move in the reconfiguration merged one of the existing rooms into an elongated living and dining volume, creating a singular spatial flow that enhances the sense of light and air throughout.

Arrival is marked by a warm, timber-clad portal that frames the entryway, creating a subtle transition from the bustle of the city to the quietude within. The view naturally draws toward a compact yet refined kitchen nook, its surfaces composed of stone and wood, where functionality is seamlessly integrated into the architecture.
